

VASHA

The Dominant Diva

Age: 12 weeks

Sex: Female

Weight: 10 lbs

Breed: Bull Dog-Lab Mix

PERSONALITY

Vasha and Cuppy Cake were born fraternal twins, with Vasha born 2nd. Obvious the two look nothing alike as they are not identical twins but surprisingly the pair act nothing alike either. Vasha is an independant dominant female who marches to the beat of her own drum. Fierce, feisty and fun-loving can be used to describe Vasha most days while the other shes just lazy, laid-back and loving. Easily wound up and ready to play fight at any time Vasha knows when she's had enough and lets it be known. Diva like attitude, Vashsa will only come to you when she wants you otherwise she will remain wherever she is at that moment like she just ignored you. Serious as she can be at times this sweet girl is going to grow up being the soul love and protector for her furever human.

HEALTH & GROOMING

Vasha and siblings are all the same in the fact they all need little to minimal grooming because they have short hair that doesn't shed. However to prepare them all we have began a routine of weekly bathing and brushing to get them used to it for future enjoyment. As for health Vasha is in very good health as she is the largest female puppy in the pack. She too has had two sets of vaccinations and two rounds of parasite medication. Upcoming at 16 weeks they all will receive their third and final booster vaccine along with a rabies shot and final deworming. At 6 months all of the puppies adopted or not are to be spayed and neutered as its a requirement even for those previously adopted puppies since we have an added clause in the contract. Despite Vasha and siblings being ready for adoption they will still need to be altered in the near future however all are still up to date on everything they need at this time.

ABOUT THE OWNER

Born into the rescue world on April 4th, Vasha and siblings have been cared for by their momma until recently when she completely weaned them leaving them to fend for themselves. Preparing for future adoption the pups have been socialized with various dogs, cats and humans of which all have gotten along. Vasha is very independent and because of this we know that she will soon be adopted by her furever family and taken to her new home where she will begin living her best life full of love.
